

Xmas Handkerchiefs

Men's, Women's, Children's

Handkerchiefs are on the gift list of every thoughtful Christmas giver, and our wonderfully large and comprehensive stock will reduce the effort of proper selection to the minimum. Every one will find practically every style here. To buy Handkerchiefs at Kaufmann's means you get the best obtainable anywhere.

Men's Initial Handkerchiefs, full size, nice quality, an exceptional value; 6 to box, at..... 75c

Women's All Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, initial embroidered in one corner; 6 in a pretty box..... 75c

Children's Nursery Rhyme Handkerchiefs, 3 to box..... 15c

Women's All Pure Linen, one corner Alpine and cottage hand-embroidered, 3 to box..... $1.00

Women All Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, with Madeira, and dainty French embroidered corners; special, ea. 25c

Open Until 9 o'Clock To-Night

Kaufmann & Company

Corner Fourth and Broad Streets.

Women's Shamrock Linen Initials, very sheer and pretty; 6 to box..... 50c

Men's All Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, with stylish block initials; 6 to box..... $1.50

Fine Irish Linen Handkerchiefs, with dainty hand-embroidered Old English initials, each..... 50c

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. James Branch Cabell, host at a lovely dinner dance at their home, "Dunbar House," on Saturday evening in honor of Captain and Mrs. Richard P. Furness, of Fort Monroe. Mrs. Furness was formerly Miss Mary Lorch Waddill, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Edmund Waddill, Jr., and her marriage this season was a brilliant society event. Miss Priscilla Shepherd has returned from school at Garden City, L. I., and during the Christmas holidays will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. James Branch Cabell, at "Dunbar House."

James Madison Mason is leaving this week for "Chestnut Hill," the country estate of his brother, near Orange. He will remain until after the holidays season. E. A. Mason, of the railroad, will arrive in Richmond on Wednesday for a short stay, before leaving to join his father for Christmas in Orange County.

Dunlop Flour

IT'S MADE IN RICHMOND

The Dunlop Mills, Richmond, Va.

Home-Made Mince Meat

Fine Raisins, Currants, Mixed Nuts, Grapefruit, Shelled Nuts, Fine Candies, Smithfield Hams, Sweet Cider.

MCCARTHY & HAYNES,
510 East Broad.

We are Agents for

The Comet Heater

Self Feeder

More sold than any other heater in Richmond. Prices, $18.50 and $22.50. Set up FREE.

Rountree-Sutherland-Cherry Corp.

THE FREED CO.

111 EAST BROAD STREET

HAMMOND

"Flowers of Guaranteed Freshness."

Tel. Madison 630.

Ask to see the

Alert Heater

at Ryan Smith

The Velvet Kind

PURITY ICE CREAM

Same Quality Every Day.

Murphy 1861.

McDougall Kitchen Cabinets and Detroit Jewel Gas Ranges make sweet tempered housewives.

JURGENS

Adams and Broad.

THE REINACH CO., Inc.

107 E. BROAD STREET.

MILLINERY—Women's and Misses' Outer Apparel.

25% Discount on all large Gas Ranges.

Rothert & Co.

of the bride's parents in Wadesboro, N. C. Both Miss Austin and Mr. Jones have many friends throughout this State and the Carolinas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Edgar Simpson, of Harrisonburg, have issued invitations for the wedding reception of their daughter, Louise Rebecca, and Dr. Theodore Willis, on the evening of Tuesday, January 6, at 7:30 o'clock in their residence in that place. The ceremony will be witnessed by only the nearest relatives and friends. After a wedding trip, Dr. Willis and his bride will occupy an apartment at Monroe Terrace.

Wright—Martha.
Walton S. Wright and Miss Daisy P. Martin were married on Saturday evening in the parlors of the Methodist Church. The bride is a daughter of Edmund Martin, of Hanover County, and the niece of Mrs. Samuel D. Trevillian, of this city. Mr. Wright is the son of Mrs. Mary E. Wright and the late Wilton Wright, of Colleton County, in brother of Mrs. J. P. Smith, of Richmond. Only immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present, among them being Mr. and Mrs. William L. Landrum, Miss Virginia Noel and Mrs. J. W. Cardwell, of Hanover, and Miss Roberta Smith, of Caroline.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright will make their home in Hanover, Va. Married in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Satterfield, of Lunenburg County, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Leslie Harrison Walker. The ceremony took place on Wednesday, December 17, in Washington. The Rev. James S. Montgomery officiating. The bride was attended by her aunt, Miss Queenie Robinson, of this city.

Waitt—McNiven.
Mrs. Thomas McNiven has announced the marriage of her daughter, Mary Howard, to Robert Waitt, of this city. The ceremony was taken place on Wednesday, July 19, 1912, in Greenwich, Conn.

Back from New York.
Mrs. H. C. Brauer is returning this week from an extended stay with friends in New York City, and will resume her dancing classes here on her arrival. Mrs. Brauer has been studying dancing under some of the best-known masters in New York during her absence from this city.

In and Out of Town.
Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wright, of Ardmore, Pa., will arrive here Wednesday to be the guests of the latter's brother, Dr. H. Norton Mason, of 414 East Grace Street.

Miss Violet Graham is home from school at Garden City, L. I., and during the Christmas holidays will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. James Branch Cabell, at "Dunbar House."

Your Hair

Show formula, on each label, to your doctor. Ask him if there is a single injurious ingredient. Ask him if he thinks Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from these ingredients, is the best preparation you could use for falling hair, or for dandruff. Does not color the hair.

J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hopkins Furniture Co.

7 West Broad St.

Cash or Credit.

Children's School

Shoes..... $1

ALBERT STEIN
Cor. 5th and Broad Sts.

Diamond Special

$12.00

For ladies, full-cut Diamond Rings, real value $18.50 at.....

W. M. TORREN, JR.
Jeweler, 108 East Broad St.

Sydnor & Hundley

are showing the largest collection of HANDSOME FURNITURE

this season they have ever exhibited.

Gift pieces a specialty.

Fonticello

Is Radio-Active

New Malaga Grapes, lb. .... 12c
New Cranberries, quart. .... 12c
Fresh Nearby Eggs, dozen. .... 32c
New Dates, lb. .... 32c

S. Ullman's Son

Down Town Store: 1820-1822 E. Main.
Uptown Store: 506 E. Marshall.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE

New Method Gas Ranges

— AT —

PETTIT & CO.'S?

Men's, Women's and Children's Felt and Leather House Slippers make a useful Xmas present.

50c. to $2.50 the pair.

Hohelmer's

Third and Broad.

MADE FROM PILLSBURY'S BEST FLOUR.

LATMOR

RAISED FROM PILLSBURY'S YEAST.

The House of Fashion

Bernard, Frances & Co.,
Broad and Fifth Streets

THALHIMERS

Sale of Men's Combination Sets

Phoenix Combination Sets, consisting of one pair Silk Lisle Hose and Silk Knitted Four-in-Hand tie to match, in handsome Xmas box; special value 50c at..... $1.00

The famous Phoenix Silk Hose and Phoenix Silk Knitted Tie to match, in all the best colors. Special in beautiful Xmas box..... $1.00

Elegant Combination Sets, consisting of one pair Suspenders, one Arm Bands and one pair Hose Supporters—a 75c value 50c for..... 25c

One pair of 25c. Silk Hose Supporters and Arm Bands to match, in handsome Xmas box..... 25c Special..... 25c

Men's All Pure Linen Initial Handkerchiefs, six to a box, for..... 75c

They also come in the popular new long initial.

Handsome Combination Sets, with Tie Handkerchief and Hose to match, in beautiful box; wonderful value $1.00 at..... $1.00

Handsome boxed Combination Set of Silk Handkerchief and Tie to match, or Hose to match; the best value in Richmond 50c at..... 50c

The famous Phoenix Silk Hose in all desirable colors; one pair box..... 50c

North Carolina to spend the holidays with her mother, Mrs. V. S. Graham, at 401 East Grace Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sands and their small son are leaving Tuesday to be the guests of Judge J. K. M. Norton, in Alexandria.

Mrs. Otto Theodore Hess will leave town tomorrow to spend Christmas in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Heigler, of Martin, Texas, are visiting their uncle, R. P. Harrison, of 1412 West Broad Street.

Miss Minnie Moorehead, of North Carolina, is visiting her relatives, Dr. Whitfield and his family, of 1800 Grove Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Storm, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., are the guests of relatives in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frazier have returned to Richmond, where they returned to spend the remainder of the season.

Morton Keith, of the University of Virginia, is returning this week to be the guest of his father, Judge James Keith, on Cathedral Place.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Hutchings have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bridges, in Ashland.

Mrs. S. C. Morton, of South Boston, has spent several days with friends in this city.

Miss Eliza Montgomery will be the guest of Miss Mildred Hemmingway, in Norfolk, after Christmas.

Miss Margaret Crawford, of this city, is visiting Mrs. J. W. Easley at her home in South Boston.

Captain R. E. Freeman, of Richmond, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Carter, Jr., in Danville.

Mrs. Caroline Fitzgerald has returned to Blackstone, after spending a few days in this city.

Mrs. Annie Blinn and Mrs. Charles Blinn, of Louisville, have been recent guests of friends here.

Miss Mary Brooke Mallory and Mrs. G. W. Balmorhead have returned to Richmond, after a two weeks' visit to relatives here.

Mrs. W. W. Ford and her children have returned from Harrisonburg to visit Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Rasher.

Miss Barbara Robertson, who has been the guest of her brother, William Robertson, in this city for a week, has returned to Newport News.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hill Stevens have returned from Ashland, where they have been visiting relatives.

John W. Carter, Jr., who has been in Richmond for several days, has returned to his home in Danville.

Mrs. Morgan R. Mills, who recently underwent an operation at Grace Hospital, has recovered sufficiently to see her friends.

ARMY IS KEPT INTACT THROUGHOUT WINTER

Russia's Failure to Demobilize Causes Uneasiness in European Capitals.

BY LA MARQUE DE FONTENAY.

Russia's action in retaining under arms throughout the winter, and until next spring, half a million of soldiers, who under ordinary circumstances would have been relieved from military duty a couple of months ago, and permitted to return to their homes and to civilian callings, has created a considerable amount of uneasiness in the various capitals of Europe, where it is regarded as constituting a menace to peace. Austria and various Balkan kingdoms demobilized their troops in the early fall, and Russia's failure to do so is regarded as ominous.

These 500,000 additional troops, over and above the normal peacetime footing of the Russian army, are scattered in the southeastern and southwestern provinces of the Czar's empire, and when the spring comes would be ready to march across the frontiers at a moment's notice, and without any of the delay incidental to mobilization. They will do nothing while the winter lasts, but it is so severe in Russia, as to make that country impracticable for foreign invasion while the cold lasts, at the same time rendering military operations well-nigh impracticable within the borders of the empire.

But that the Muscovite government should go to the enormous expense of retaining half a million of time-expired soldiers under arms, though in idleness, throughout the long and dreary winter, can, in the opinion of those in a position to know, mean but one thing, namely, that she wishes to have them in readiness for instant use, either in the Balkans or in Asia Minor, the very moment spring arrives.

Francis William Stronge, who, in deference to the sentiments of the administration at Washington, was withdrawn by the British government in August last from Mexico, for having while envoy there associated himself with the American ambassador, Henry Lane Wilson, in expressing a preference for the regime of President Huerta over that of the Carrancista rebel leaders. Stronge, indeed, like most of the other envoys officially recognized the Huerta dictatorship as the only de facto government, has not remained long unmolested. For he has just been appointed to the post of minister plenipotentiary at Santiago, in Chile; a mission which carries with it some rather larger commitments, and is, in itself, more agreeable climatically and otherwise, than that of Mexico.

Stronge is a brother of Sir James Henry Stronge, of Tynan Abbey, County Armagh, holder of a baronetcy, which was bestowed upon the Rev. James Stronge, a sporting parson of great territorial possessions and much political influence, in 1802, for his services in helping to bring about the union between England and Ireland. The second baronet was one of the gentlemen in waiting of George IV., both as regent and as king. The family has always been identified with Ireland, although it originally hailed from Scotland, and was flourishing at baskin, in the County of Fife, in 1263, according to contemporaneous records. The first to establish himself in Ireland was Matthew Stronge, who was Warden of Lifford, in County Donegal, at the end of the seventeenth century.

On his mother's side, Francis Stronge is descended from the patriotic Lord Charlemont, of "Irish Volunteer" renown, and is married to a lady of the Frasers of Saltoun, by whom he has several daughters.

likely to be seen a good deal in American waters during the next two years or so, is a grandson of the second Earl of Longford, and bears a name well-known in this country. For Sir Richard Pakenham was for many years British envoy at Washington. General Sir Edward Pakenham was killed in the battle of New Orleans, in January, 1815, and his nephew, General Thomas Henry Pakenham, who died last spring as a Crimean veteran, had an American wife, the eldest daughter of William Clarke, of New York, who was a part-son of the late Adrian Iselin, in the latter's banking house on Wall Street. The son of this union, Richard Henry Pakenham, formerly of the Grenadier Guards, was Unionist candidate for the election in Derry last spring, his Nationalist opponent being Shane Leslie, brother-in-law of General Henry Clay Hyde, formerly American envoy in Madrid, and son of that Leone Jerome, of New York, who is the wife of Colonel John Leslie, of Glasgow, County Monaghan.

Rear-Admiral Pakenham is one of the most brilliant officers of the British navy, and as naval attaché at Tokyo was the only foreigner on board the flagship of Admiral Togo throughout the war of Japan with Russia. He was the only alien to whom Togo accorded his entire confidence throughout that memorable conflict, in which the secrecy of the Japanese commander's movements contributed so much to their success, and to the victory of Japan. Indeed, it was he, safely asserted that there is to-day no white naval officer who, thanks to this remarkable experience, possesses so much practical knowledge of naval warfare, on a large scale, under the most modern conditions, as Admiral Pakenham.

The family of Pakenham was founded by one of Cromwell's captains, who, in 1651, after the creation of the Marquis of Albemarle, received the lands of the ancient barony of Bantry, in the County of Westmeath, where he built Pakenham Hall, which has ever since remained the ancestral home of the head of the family. His great-grandson, Thomas, married in 1740 Elizabeth, grandniece and heiress of Ambrose Aungler, last Earl of Longford, and their union created the Marquis of Longford, who has since been a number of years. When he died his barony went to his eldest son. But the later predeceased his mother, and it was in consequence thereof that his eldest son became third Baron Longford before becoming, on the demise of his grandmother, second earl of that title.

The present earl is colonel of the Second Life Guards, a Knight of the Order of St. Patrick, served through the South African War, where he was badly wounded at Lindley, and is married to Lady Mary Villiers, daughter of the Earl of Jersey.

There is no truth in the report that the old municipal seal of the city of London, which has just been put out of commission, after over 500 years of continuous service, has been broken up. The latter expression has been used merely in a figurative sense, and it has been placed on exhibition intact in the British Museum.

Non seals go out of use, it is customary to cut a thick groove across the face of them, so as to prevent their further employment. The Court of Aldermen would not permit, however, this practice to be followed in the present instance, and the ceremonial process of "demasking," or defacing, was accomplished by the seal being lightly tapped with a small hammer, without any injury to its marking.

The seal was made in 1381, several months before Sir William Walworth, Lord Mayor of London in that year, killed the rebel leader, Wat Tyler, with a dagger at Smithfield. This dagger, of the legend, according to which the dagger, or sword, represented on the city arms, and on the old seal, were added to the heraldic devices of the metropolis to commemorate the event. The sword on the seal is not that of Lord Mayor Sir William Walworth, but of Saint Paul, the sword and the Cross of St. George being the earliest known heraldic devices of the city.

The old seal is a piece of very beautiful, deeply cut, Gothic work in silver, mounted on an iron boss, which was attached to the sealing press when documents were sealed. The new seal is a precise duplicate, except that two small Tudor roses have been added, to distinguish it from its predecessor. (Copyright, 1913, by the Brentwood Company.)

ner of the late Adrian Iselin, in the latter's banking house on Wall Street. The son of this union, Richard Henry Pakenham, formerly of the Grenadier Guards, was Unionist candidate for the election in Derry last spring, his Nationalist opponent being Shane Leslie, brother-in-law of General Henry Clay Hyde, formerly American envoy in Madrid, and son of that Leone Jerome, of New York, who is the wife of Colonel John Leslie, of Glasgow, County Monaghan.

Rear-Admiral Pakenham is one of the most brilliant officers of the British navy, and as naval attaché at Tokyo was the only foreigner on board the flagship of Admiral Togo throughout the war of Japan with Russia. He was the only alien to whom Togo accorded his entire confidence throughout that memorable conflict, in which the secrecy of the Japanese commander's movements contributed so much to their success, and to the victory of Japan. Indeed, it was he, safely asserted that there is to-day no white naval officer who, thanks to this remarkable experience, possesses so much practical knowledge of naval warfare, on a large scale, under the most modern conditions, as Admiral Pakenham.

The family of Pakenham was founded by one of Cromwell's captains, who, in 1651, after the creation of the Marquis of Albemarle, received the lands of the ancient barony of Bantry, in the County of Westmeath, where he built Pakenham Hall, which has ever since remained the ancestral home of the head of the family. His great-grandson, Thomas, married in 1740 Elizabeth, grandniece and heiress of Ambrose Aungler, last Earl of Longford, and their union created the Marquis of Longford, who has since been a number of years. When he died his barony went to his eldest son. But the later predeceased his mother, and it was in consequence thereof that his eldest son became third Baron Longford before becoming, on the demise of his grandmother, second earl of that title.

The present earl is colonel of the Second Life Guards, a Knight of the Order of St. Patrick, served through the South African War, where he was badly wounded at Lindley, and is married to Lady Mary Villiers, daughter of the Earl of Jersey.

There is no truth in the report that the old municipal seal of the city of London, which has just been put out of commission, after over 500 years of continuous service, has been broken up. The latter expression has been used merely in a figurative sense, and it has been placed on exhibition intact in the British Museum.

Non seals go out of use, it is customary to cut a thick groove across the face of them, so as to prevent their further employment. The Court of Aldermen would not permit, however, this practice to be followed in the present instance, and the ceremonial process of "demasking," or defacing, was accomplished by the seal being lightly tapped with a small hammer, without any injury to its marking.

The seal was made in 1381, several months before Sir William Walworth, Lord Mayor of London in that year, killed the rebel leader, Wat Tyler, with a dagger at Smithfield. This dagger, of the legend, according to which the dagger, or sword, represented on the city arms, and on the old seal, were added to the heraldic devices of the metropolis to commemorate the event. The sword on the seal is not that of Lord Mayor Sir William Walworth, but of Saint Paul, the sword and the Cross of St. George being the earliest known heraldic devices of the city.

The old seal is a piece of very beautiful, deeply cut, Gothic work in silver, mounted on an iron boss, which was attached to the sealing press when documents were sealed. The new seal is a precise duplicate, except that two small Tudor roses have been added, to distinguish it from its predecessor. (Copyright, 1913, by the Brentwood Company.)

Pendleton-Smith.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., December 21.—
Dr. Wilson Pendleton, of Portsmouth,

To Know What is "Right"

In Christmas gifts a visit to the Schwarzschild store is necessary. You will then realize why this store is so firmly held in the esteem of the Richmond public.

Schwarzschild Brothers

Richmond's Leading Jewelers.
Second and Broad Sts.

Va., a graduate of the medical school of the University of Virginia, class of 1908, and now in charge of the State Sanatorium of North Carolina, at Aberdeen, and Miss Myrtle Virginia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Monroe Smith, of this city, were married yesterday afternoon in Washington, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. C. H. Dudley, of St. Joseph's Episcopal Church. After a short trip in the North, Dr. and Mrs. Pendleton will be at home at Aberdeen, N. C. Since his graduation, Dr. Pendleton has had charge of several large sanatoriums in the South. The bride is a graduate of the University of Virginia training school for nurses.

Conner—Grippe.
Charlottesville, Va., December 21.—
Z. Gilbert Conner, of Murray, Ky., at present a law writer for the McClure Publishing Company, of this city, and Miss Lily Grippe, daughter of Mr. Joseph Grippe, of St. Albans, Va., were married at 7 o'clock this morning at the home of C. H. Walker, on Albemarle Circle, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. W. Allen Smart, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Immediately after the ceremony Mrs. Conner left for Murray, Ky., to spend the holidays with the groom's parents. The groom graduated from the law school of the University of Virginia last June. The bride was educated at private schools in this city and is a talented musician. She is of the brunette type and of singular beauty. They will make their home in Charlottesville.

RESINOL IS THE EASY WAY TO GET RID OF PIMPLES

It is so easy to get rid of pimples and blackheads with Resinol, and it costs so little, too, that any one whose face is disfigured by these pests is foolish to keep on with useless creams, washes or complicated "beauty treatments." Here is the way to do it: Rub your face for several minutes with Resinol Soap and hot water, then apply a little Resinol Ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with Resinol Soap and more hot water, flushing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this every morning and evening, and you will be surprised to see how quickly the healing, antiseptic Resinol balsams soothe and cleanse the pores, leaving the complexion clear and velvety.

Resinol Ointment (25c and 50c) and Resinol Soap (25c) stop itching instantly and speedily heal eczema and other skin humors, dandruff, sores, itches and piles. For free trial, write Dept. 23-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Avoid so-called "substitutes."

FAMILY WASHING

Rough Dry, 6 cents per pound. No bundle less than 25 cents.

The Royal Laundry

Richmond's Best and Largest.

No Gift Like Jewelry---

No matter what you give, or where you get it, there is no other gift that can give the same pleasure to the recipient as does Exquisite Jewelry. It is a useful gift as well as one that will ALWAYS be a reminder of your thoughtfulness. It's a gift that will last a lifetime.

Buy From James'

Because nowhere else can you find such a large assortment of unique and attractive Jewelry. Among the Gift Suggestions that we show in profusion you can select the RIGHT gift easily.

A Watch--the Gift for Him

What man doesn't love to own a Good Watch—a Watch he can be proud to show to his friends. Give Him a Watch.

From our stock you can find just the one you want to give him. See them.

Come at Once

Don't wait any longer. Christmas is almost upon us! To shop to best advantage, shop NOW! We are open evenings until 9 o'clock.

Accounts Open With Reliable Persons.

J.S. JAMES

"The Diamond Merchant"
7th and Main Streets

